Baylor holds firmly to the conviction that the world needs a preeminent research university that is distinctly Christian, where such a commitment does not imply a lack of scholarly inquiry, but rather requires scholarship and creative endeavors at the highest levels of quality to complement and inform its teaching and service.

Being a Christian, however, is not required for admission to Baylor. Our caring community welcomes students from any or no faith background, including those from about 40 different religious affiliations as part of our undergraduate student body.

baylor.edu/spirituallife

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE WAYS WE SEEK TO INTEGRATE FAITH AND LEARNING:

- Chapel has played an integral role in the life of Baylor University since its inception. Because everyone’s spiritual journey is unique, students are able to select their own chapel experiences created from the communities that are already investing in their spiritual lives. From academic cohorts, Living-Learning Centers, athletics, campus ministries, residential colleges and other programs, there is a chapel experience connected to the groups where students are naturally finding community or in a larger group experience if that is preferred. Learn more at baylor.edu/spirituallife/chapel.

- Religion classes help students examine and understand Christian history, literature and beliefs.

- Service opportunities help students put hands and feet to faith. At Baylor, we believe service can be a whole lot of fun, and we make sure it of through our strong Baptist Student Ministry, mission trips, Steppin’ Out and other community service projects.

- A current Truett Seminary student serves as Resident Chaplain in each residence hall, providing leadership, guidance and support.
Living on campus at Baylor, you will experience a supportive Christian environment with people and services in place to help you achieve personal growth and academic success. Freshmen are required to live on campus, but it is optional for upper class students. Learn more about your housing options at baylor.edu/CLL.

LIVING-LEARNING CENTERS
Living-Learning Centers are communities organized around specific academic programs or areas of interest. Living-Learning Centers bring together freshmen through seniors who share similar interests and degree plans. As part of the emphasis on community, residents may share common cohort classes and have access to other academic services and programming within the communities.

The Residential Colleges offer a special sense of family through group dinners, optional morning and evening prayer, and Master’s Teas hosted by the Residential College Faculty Steward.
- Brooks Residential College
- Honors Residential College
- Teal Residential College

FIRST-YEAR COMMUNITIES
First-Year Communities foster a strong sense of belonging among Baylor’s incoming class. These residence halls offer freshmen an opportunity to meet and live with other freshmen with different interests and backgrounds. Students are able to learn and grow with each other through their first year at Baylor as they find their place in the Baylor Line.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AND SCHOLARLY ACHIEVEMENT (URSA)

The Undergraduate Research and Scholarly Achievement (URSA) initiative is one of the programs housed in the Office of Engaged Learning, which is the central hub of programs that are designed to serve faculty and students from all disciplines by providing opportunities for “learning beyond the classroom.” The goal of URSA is to support, promote and enhance high-quality undergraduate research and scholarship through grants and Scholars Week, where students from all disciplines give research presentations or display their artistic creations. This high level of research activity has led to 13 Baylor students being named Fulbright recipients for 2022. For more details on undergraduate research opportunities at Baylor, visit baylor.edu/ursa.

MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

The Department of Multicultural Affairs enriches the development of each student by encouraging them to celebrate their personal heritage and embrace the cultures of others. In pursuit of this mission, we sponsor three main student coalitions and support their collaborative efforts throughout the year: Black Student Coalition, Coalition of Asian Students and Latinx Coalition. Baylor also has more than 40 multicultural organizations, from academic and professional development to Greek life, religious engagement, special interest activities and other student associations. For more information and to stay up-to-date with events, visit baylor.edu/multicultural.

Our First in Line office provides support, resources and scholarships for our first-generation college students to help them better navigate Baylor successfully. We also provide you with an additional layer of support through peer-led connections in programs like the First in Line Student Society, Ambassador-led First Family Gatherings and monthly workshops. And be sure to check out the First in Line Success Academy scholarship program, exclusive for incoming, first-generation Bears. For more information, please visit baylor.edu/firstinline.
Membership in a Greek organization will provide you the opportunity to excel as a student at Baylor University. Whether it is through leadership, academic excellence, service, friendship or spiritual growth, being part of a fraternity or sorority at Baylor offers students the chance to make significant and impactful differences in their organizations, the Baylor community and beyond.

Baylor practices a deferred recruitment model, where incoming students become eligible for membership during their second semester rather than their first semester. This allows incoming students to spend their first semester adjusting to academics, connecting to the university and learning about chapters and membership benefits.

“The benefits of Greek life go beyond the program itself. As a recruitment mentor, I have the opportunity to lead by example and encourage others to join our community. Greek life is about building meaningful relationships and creating a sense of belonging.”

There are many ways to make a Baylor education fit your family’s budget. Very few students pay the full tuition “sticker price” and are able to fund their education through various scholarships, financial aid, loans and payment plans. More than 90% of students receive financial aid, and 86% receive merit scholarships. So this number could look different for your specific situation. Explore all the ways to fund your Baylor education at baylor.edu/affordability.

OPTION 1: MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS
Your comprehensive academic record and a full review of your completed Baylor application file determine your eligibility for a Baylor merit scholarship. No additional application is required. All applicants are considered for merit scholarships when they apply, including students who apply as test optional.

OPTION 2: FINANCIAL AID
To be considered for the maximum amount of financial aid, you must submit both the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at fillfa.gov and the CSS Profile at cssprofile.collegeboard.org. Both applications open on October 1 and should be submitted by the final deadline to be considered for the most available funds:

- Freshman Early Decision 1 and Early Action Priority Deadline: November 1
- Final Deadline to submit the CSS Profile for all Freshman Admissions Plans: February 1

If you miss the final deadline, please submit an application as soon as possible to be considered for any remaining funds.

The FAFSA will determine your eligibility for these programs: grants, educational loans and federal work study.

The CSS Profile will determine your eligibility for institutional, need-based aid.

OPTION 3: SPECIALTY BAYLOR AWARDS
Baylor offers a variety of “specialty” scholarships for students who meet specific qualifications (i.e. event-based, leadership, academic, extracurricular activities, denomination, legacy status, athletics, military, housing choice, departmental, transfer). Baylor will also help you process VA Education Benefits and participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program. You can learn more about these awards at baylor.edu/typesofaid.

OPTION 4: OUTSIDE SCHOLARSHIPS
We recommend you apply for as many outside/private scholarships as possible. These might include scholarships offered by local businesses or service/religious organizations. Your school counselor should be able to assist you in determining what is available in your community.

OPTION 5: PAYMENT PLANS
Baylor offers an installment plan that allows you to pay your out-of-pocket cost each semester in five monthly payments. You can learn more about this option at baylor.edu/sfs/installment.

PRO TIP: Some questions will be the same on the FAFSA and CSS Profile. Make sure you answer consistently, or your award package will be delayed until conflicting information is resolved.

HIGH-IMPACT PRACTICES
Whether engaging in undergraduate research, studying abroad or participating in a first-year seminar, each student attending Baylor can expect to engage in at least two high-impact practices (HIPs) as part of their college career if they take advantage of all that Baylor has to offer. Students who experience HIPs tend to earn higher grades and meet personal objectives, build deeper and more positive faculty relationships, acquire necessary skills and develop new ways of thinking. Plus, these evidence-based practices increase the odds of student success beyond the college campus!

Handshake [Baylor’s career database] helped me so much in finding jobs that fit the criteria I was looking for. It also helped me set up a meeting with the Career Center, in which I was able to ask questions and receive guidance during my job search process.

Jane Park, Corporate Communications Executive Recruiter with McFarlin Standford
